ROCKINGHAM PLANNING COMMISSION-TOWN OF RYE PUBLIC SHOREFRONT ACCESS STUDY August, 1984

Proporty of Cla Library

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE NOAA COASTAL SERVICES CENTER 2234 SOUTH HOBSON AVENUE CHARLESTON, SC 29405-2413

The New Hampshire Coastal Program provided a grant for the preparation of this report which was financed in part by the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended, administered by the Office of Oceans and Coastal Resources Management, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

INTRODUCTION

The Coastal Zone Management Act Amendments of 1976 call for studies of public access to the shorefront to be an integral part of coastal planning efforts. Concurrently, public access to coastal waters has been set forth as an objective of New Hampshire's Coastal Resources program.

Public access is an ongoing concern of Rye, New Hampshire. Rye's coastline accounts for eight miles of New Hampshire's eighteen mile coastline. At numerous locations along Rye's shorefront, legal access to the sea is disputed.

For example, in at least two instances, a "public" right-of-way in Rye has been posted with "No Trespassing" signs by the abutting private parties. Were this designation to go unchallenged, these public ways could well become "private." One beachfront property owner claims part of the beach in addition to land under the ocean all the way out to the Isles of Shoals, and even has a deed to "prove" it.

The following material provides a review of past and present efforts addressing access conflicts, and supplements this information with current data and recommendations directed at resolving the disputes. Specifically, the following involves a generic analysis of statutes and case law relating to public rights-of-way and coastal access, extensive research into existing coastal reportsl, town records, deeds, historic maps, and interviews with longtime residents; a detailed analysis of the more troublesome sites; and a list of alternative actions available to Rye Selectmen and the Planning Board. Most importantly, the report provides direction for local officials in assessing the options at their disposal.

¹Source material includes, "A Public Shorefront Access Planning Process for the State of New Hampshire," (1978), "Open Space Standards and Criteria," (1969), and, "Areas of Particular Concern," (1977), published by the Strafford Rockingham Regional Council and the New Hampshire Office of State Planning.

SITE SELECTION

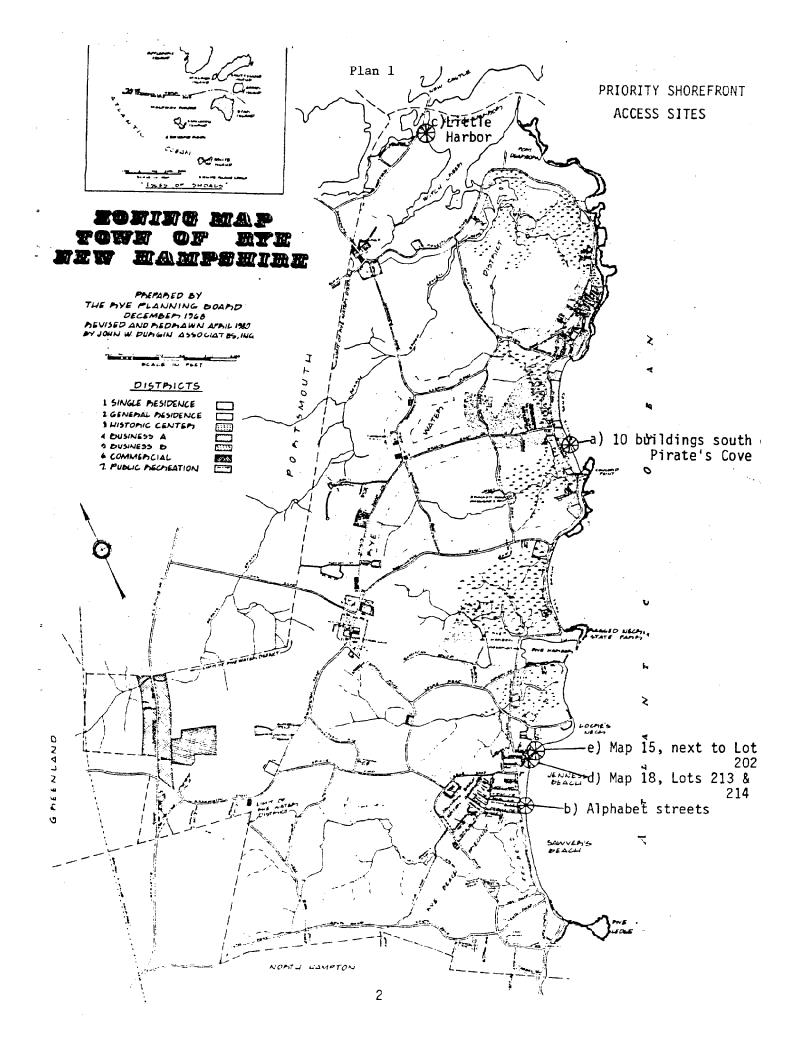

The first phase of this project entailed the listing of sites where access was thought to be problematic or contested. Locations were solicited in the autumn of 1983 from the Planning Board, Selectmen, Conservation Commission, present and former Building Inspectors, and interested local citizens. The following list was compiled:

- 1) Alphabet Streets at Jenness Beach.
- Cable Road Extension.
- 3) Off Old Beach Road (Tax Map 18, Parcels 213 and 214).
- 4) Off Old Beach Road (Tax Map 15, next to Parcel 202).
- 5) A possible right of way approximately 10 buildings south of Pirate's Cove.
- 6) Wallis Sands across from Harbor Master.
- 7) Little Harbor at Wentworth Road by golf course.

On January 20, 1984, the Rye Selectmen prioritized this list as follows: (Note Selectmen's letter in Attachment 1).

- a) A possible right of way approximately 10 buildings south of Pirate's Cove.
- b) Alphabet Streets at Jenness Beach.
- c) Little Harbor at Wentworth Road by golf course.
- d) Off Old Beach Road (Tax Map 18, Parcels 213 and 214).
- e) Off Old Beach Road (Tax Map 15, next to Parcel 202).

Sites"A" through"D" were subsequently investigated (see Plan 1 on following page). Upon discovery that Site "E" is currently being litigated by the Jenness Beach Precinct, we decided that further investigation on our part would be redundant and probably extraneous.

OVERVIEW OF NEW HAMPSHIRE LAW RELATIVE TO TOWN ROADS AND PUBLIC WAYS

Prior to discussing the methodology used to prepare this report, a quick overview of New Hampshire law relative to streets and highways would be helpful. Note text of selected laws in Attachment 2.

Highways are defined and classified by New Hampshire Statute as follows:

General Definition RSA 229:1:

"Highways are only such as are:

- (1) laid out in the mode prescribed therefor by statute, or
- (2) roads which have been constructed for public travel over land which has been conveyed to a city or town or to the state by deed of a fee or easement interest, or
- (3) roads which have been dedicated to the public use and accepted by the city or town in which such roads are located, or
- (4) roads which have been used for public travel, other than travel to and from a toll bridge or ferry, for 20 years prior to January 1, 1968, and shall include the bridges thereon."

Classification: RSA 229:5

Class I, II and III are state highways.

Class IV, V and IV are town (or city) roads.

Class IV: Roads in built-up sections of municipalities over 7,500.

Class V: All other public roads which the town has a duty to maintain.

Class VI: All other existing public ways including highways:

- discontinued as open highways and made subject to gates and bars;
- 2) all those not maintained for 5 years or more.

The town retains a public right-of-way on these Class VI roads.

Highway Maintenance: RSA 231:57 - 110

Municipalities have responsibility for maintenance of Class IV and V roads. Class VI roads, by definition, are not maintained and the town is not liable for maintenance or accidents thereon.

Establishment of Town Roads:

There are three ways to establish town roads:

1) By Layout: RSA 231:1 - 33 Class IV, V and VI highways may be laid out by Selectmen. Following a citizen petition to Selectmen, a Public Hearing is held (minimum dure in Attachments 41 through 44.

Many of Rye's roads were laid out in this manner during the 19th century. RSA 231:6 specifically authorizes Selectmen to layout Class V highways to "Public Waters." Layout may be appealed as per RSA 231:34-39.

14 day notice) and damages are assessed. Note examples of this proce-

2) Dedication by property owner: RSA 231:51

The Town assumes responsibility for maintenance when a street is accepted by Town Meeting Vote. Proposed streets should first be approved by the Planning Board and built to Town standards. If a platted street is not built or used for public travel within 20 years, RSA 231:51 requires that it be "released and discharged from all public servitude" in a manner prescribed by RSA 231:52.

In Young vs. Prendiville, 112 NH 190 (1972), the New Hampshire Supreme Court found that, despite C Street's implied dedication, "public use was indefinite and at the most suggested an occasional use," and was therefore insufficient to show public acceptance of this street in Rye.

3) Prescription.

Under the legal doctrine of prescription, the public may acquire transit rights over private property by repeated passage over that property over a period of years. Class V roads can no longer be established by prescription. Only roads used by the public for 20 years prior to January 1, 1968, can be established as Class V highways by prescription. Public use must be open, continuous, and without the permission of the landowner, that is, it must be "adverse and hostile"2. Private and even public easements may still be established by prescription, as the January 1, 1968 requirement pertains only to Class V highways.

In Young v. Prendiville, the Superior Court ruled that plaintiffs did not prove adversity and hostility over a 20-year span, thereby rejecting their claims of a prescriptive easement.

The New Hampshire Supreme Court ruled in 1977 that use by the public of a road "looking for a place to swim" though "intermittent and of a slight volume," is sufficient to sustain a finding of establishment by prescription.3

Discontinuing Highways: RSA 231:43

Class IV, V, and VI highways may be discontinued only by vote of the town.4 Discontinuance occurs when an open highway is eliminated outright, or becomes subject to gates and bars, thus creating a Class VI road. In the latter instances, the right of way would continue as a public way.5

Appeal from discontinuance is to Superior Court (RSA 231:48) within 6 months.

In those instances where a highway was established by prescription, discontinuance requires consent of the Superior Court.6

²See Jean v. Arsenault, 85 NH 72 (1931); Williams v. Babcock, 116 NH 819 (1976); and Leo Foundation v. State of New Hampshire, 117 NH 209 (1977)

³See Leo Foundation v. State of New Hampshire, 117 NH 209

⁴See Marone vs. Hampton 123 NH 729 (1983)

⁵See Bancroft v. Canterbury, 118 NH 453 (1978)

⁶See Currier v. Davis, 68 NH 596 (1896)

Once a highway is established, it is presumed to exist until discontinued. Non-use or abandonment by the public for 20 years does not constitute discontinuance.7

One cannot acquire a private interest in a highway by adverse possession, as this doctrine may enhance public rights but may never be used against public ways.8

METHODOLOGY

A four-step methodology was selected to analyze beach access — a review of town records to determine the existence of explicit rights-of-way, a review of past litigation on the matter, interviews with local residents, and a listing of alternative approaches the Town can take to improve beach access.

As has been noted, existing public rights of way have come about by one or more of the following:

- 1) By expressed grant
- By reason of layout or dedication on a plan or map
- 3) By prescriptive use of the general public.

Additionally, private parties such as residents of a particular neighborhood may have acquired rights of passage through adverse use.

To date, litigation involving beach access in Rye has not produced any conclusive evidence relative to expressed grants simply because no comprehensive survey of public records had been undertaken since 1901.9 The first task was to conduct such a survey.

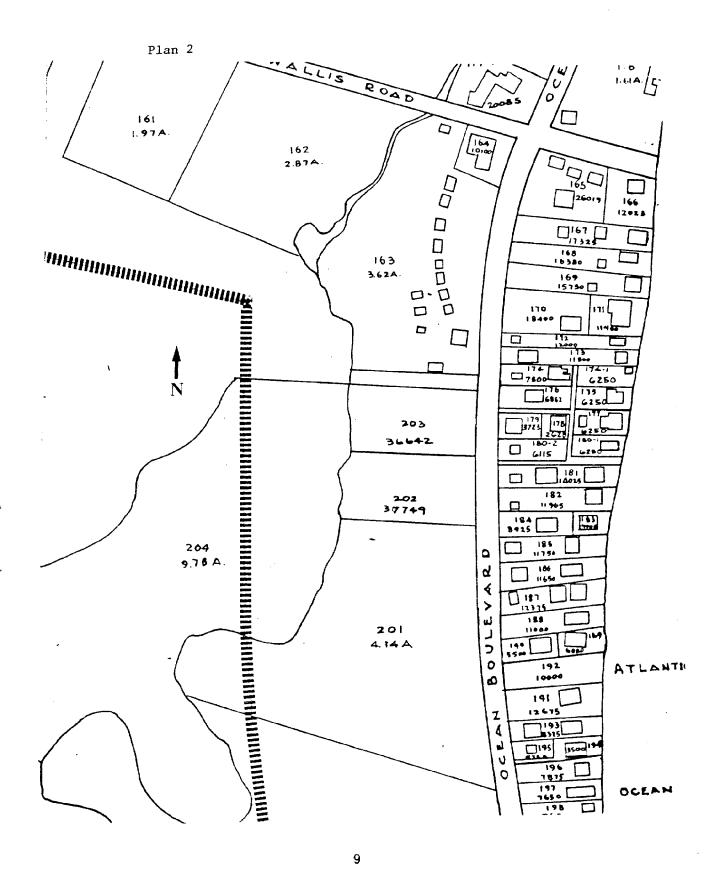

In order to determine conclusively the existence of (or the lack of) grants, layouts, dedications, discontinuances, and easements, the Town Clerk's and Selectmen's records were searched back to the 19th century as were the Planning Board records, Board of Adjustment records, Historical Society archives, tax records, and historical maps dated 1805, 1842, 1851, 1857, 1892, 1900, 1918 and 1938. The titles of the subject properties were also traced at the Rockingham County Registry of Deeds, noting any mention of public or private easements, while ignoring attachments, liens, or technical title defects. An invaluable by-product of this research was the compilation of a comprehensive listing (indexed and cross-referenced) of dedications and discontinuances townwide (see Attachments 9, 10, 11 and 12).

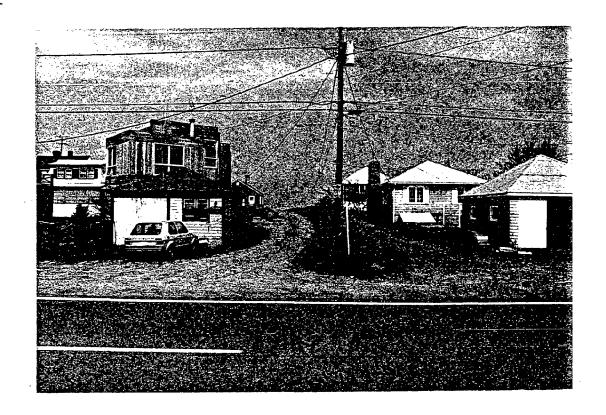

⁹L. B. Parson, History of Rye, Concord: Rumford Printing Co., 1905

As mentioned above, other means by which access rights are acquired include prescriptive use by the general public and/or adverse use by certain private parties. Prescriptive easements may be established by documented public use for a period of 20 years or longer prior to January 1, 1968, to establish highways, no deadline for lesser easements. In 1971-72 litigation involving access at the alphabet streets (Young v. Prendiville, 112 NH 190), the courts found the level of documentation of prescriptive and adverse use to be insufficient. With that in mind, a wide ranging series of interviews were conducted with present and former residents of the areas in question, documenting names, dates, and patterns of land use.

Finally, various alternatives available to the Town which may potentially enhance public access at the selected sites are described. All of the above was then reviewed by legal counsel.

SITE A Wallis Sands, 1256-1262 Ocean Boulevard (12 buildings south of Pirate's Cove)

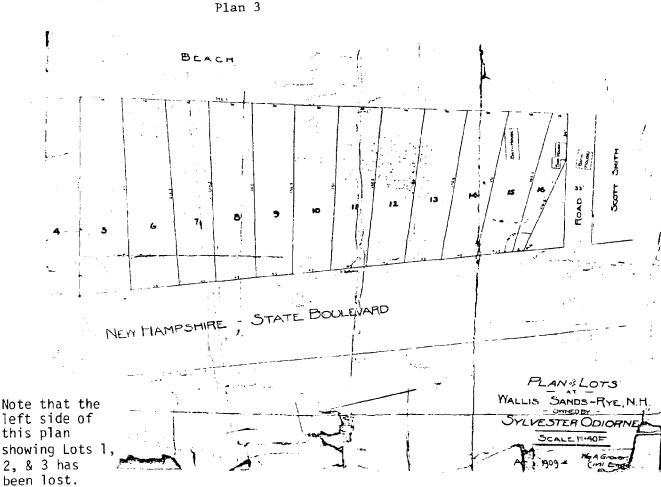

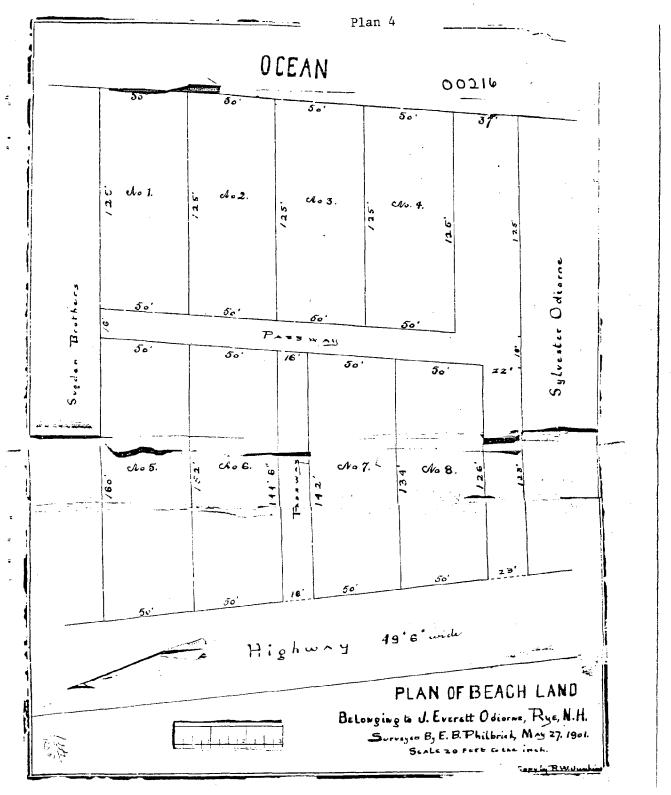

History: The telephone pole in the photograph above marks the approximate northern boundary of a large tract of land conveyed in 1881 from Trueman Odiorne to Sylvester Odiorne (Volume 486, page 40). The deed mentions "Marsh" and "sand hills" but makes no reference to buildings or rights-of-way. Wallis Sands had not yet been developed, nor was there apparently any access by road. This stretch of Ocean Boulevard was constructed in 1902.

In 1909, Sylvester Odiorne platted 16 lots between the boulevard and the beach, each lot being 50 feet wide on the beach side (see Plan 3 below, and Attachment 13). Three years later, Odiorne sold lots #1 and #2, the northerly two lots, to Frank Beebe (Vol. 667, page 222). The deed makes no mention of any easements.

In 1919, Beebe sold Lots #1 and #2 to Frances Stone (Vol. 734, page 56). Frances Stone sold the northerly of the two parcels, Lot #1, to Gertrude and Vivia Stone in 1923 (vol. 780, page 15). The Stones conveyed Lot #1 to Hazel Johnson in 1939 (Vol. 961, page 360), who in turn willed it to the present owners, Harlow and Rita Cole (see Attachment 14). None of these transactions made mention of any easements or passageways. Lot #1 is designated on the Rye Tax Map as Parcel #181 on Sheet #9.

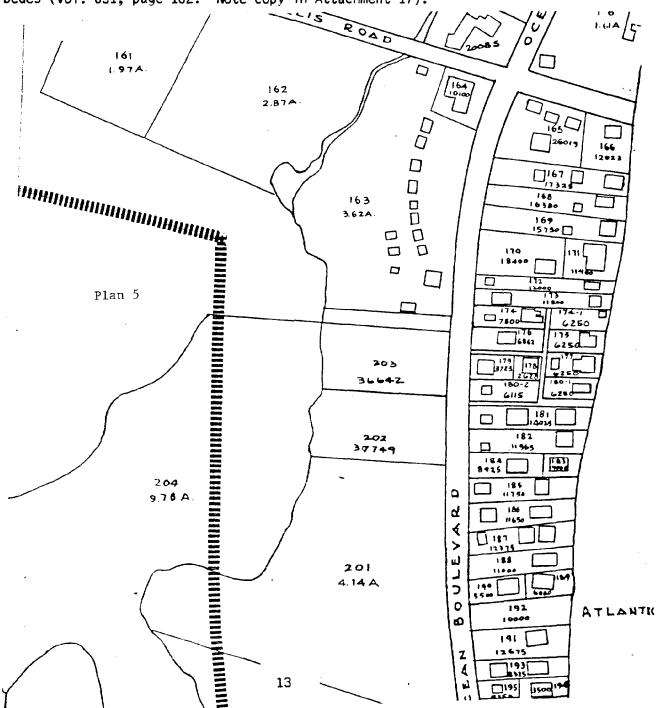

Tax Map Parcels #180-1 and #180-2 originate with the Jonathan Everett Odiorne subdivision of 1901 (see Plan 4 below, and Attachment 15). This tract encompasses the present passageway.

J. Everett Odiorne's Lot #4 corresponds with the present Tax Map Parcel #180-1, while Lot #8 corresponds with Tax Map Parcel #180-2. Note that Odiorne's plan indicates a 16 foot wide north/south "passway," and another running east/west whose width varies between 22 feet, 23 feet, and 37 feet.

J.E. Ordiorne sold Lots 4 and 8 in 1901 to Edward P. Kimball and William F. Thayer, who held both lots in common ownership (deed copy Attachment 16 and see Plan 5 below, Parcels #180-1 and 180-2). This deed also conveyed "the right to use the common passways designated on said (J.E. Ordiorne) plan." Additionally, "said grantees are given the right of way over said grantors' land from the highway to the Ocean, said right of way to be twelve feet wide and adjoining land of Sylvester Ordiorne."

The properties eventually passed to Thayer's daughter, Margaret Sulloway, and to Kimball's daugher-in-law, Maude B. Kimball. In 1926, they sold the property, along with the above mentioned rights to the passways and right of way to Arthur Dedes (Vol. 831, page 162. Note copy in Attachment 17).

Helen Michaud was the sole heir of Arthur Dedes. In 1950, she conveyed Lot #4 (1258 Ocean Boulevard) to the present owners, Paul & Gladys Little (Vol. 1162, page 25). Twenty years later, she conveyed Lot #8 (1256 Ocean Boulevard) to its present owner, Norman Michaud. Both deeds also convey all rights of passage set forth in the Sulloway to Dedes deed.

Findings:

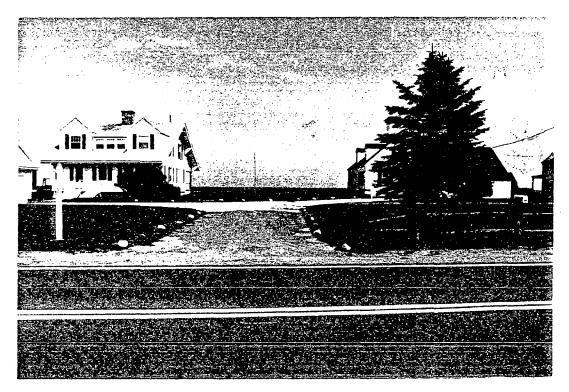

- 1) Research has unearthed no expressed grant of public rights of passage.
- 2) The 1901 J. E. Odiorne plan appears to indicate an implied easement by reasons of the platted passageway running 267 feet between Ocean Boulevard and the public beach.
- 3) Interviews with area residents suggest that a case may be made for public easement by prescription; however, the documentation to date is not overwhelming.

History: As recently as World War I, the Jenness Beach area was little more than a cow pasture. In 1919, Mathilda Kirkegaard of Bedford, Mass., acquired 72 acres of pasture land from James Perkins and John Brown (Vol. 739, Page 113, Attachment 20). This tract extended from Perkins Road north to approximately the present site of Philbrick's store, and was bounded on the east by the beach and on the west by Central Road. The ambitious development proposed for this tract was dubbed "Myrica-by-the-Sea."

Mathilda Kirkegaard was related to the Brown family of Bedford, Mass. Although taking different corporate names from time to time, this family oversaw the development of this 355-lot development throughout its history. Kirkegaard conveyed the premises in 1920 to the Rye Beach Realty Co., a family corporation (Vol. 739, Page 114, Attachment 21). A plan was drawn by John Durgin indicating 51 lots west of Ocean Boulevard, but nothing east of the Boulevard other than "High Beach Land." (See Plan 6B below and Attachment 22).

In July 1921, Rye Beach Realty Co. conveyed the property to another family corporation, the Brown Real Estate and Timber Company (Vol. 757, Page 20). Over the course of the next six years. Brown Real Estate and Timber Company sold twenty lots, most of which were in fairly close proximity to the beach.

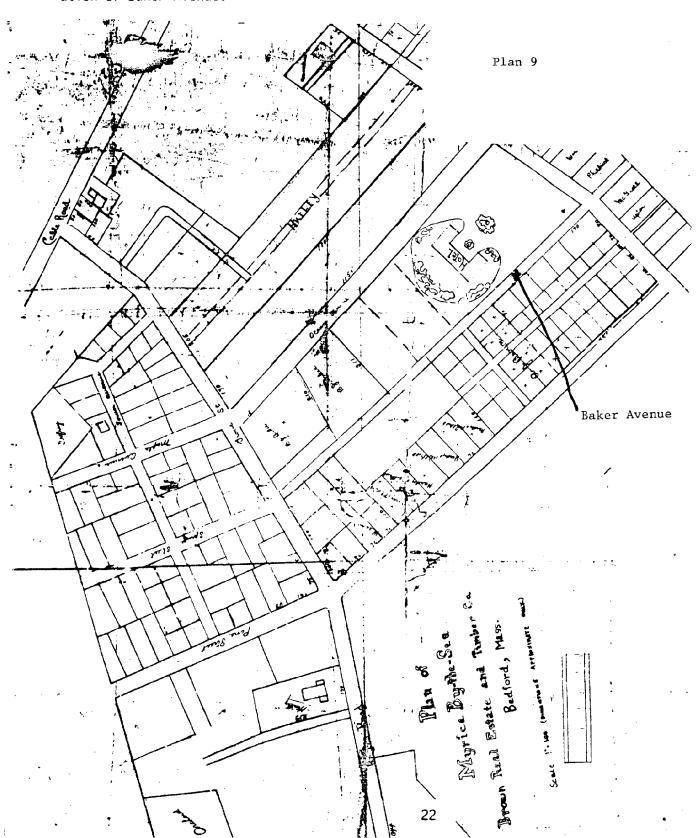

The next plan to be recorded at the Registry is entitled, "Beach Land of Brown Real Estate and Timber Company." (See Plan 7 and Attachment 23.) The plan clearly shows A Street through E Street. Although undated, comparing land sales with owners indicated on the plan dates this plan to the autumn of 1921.

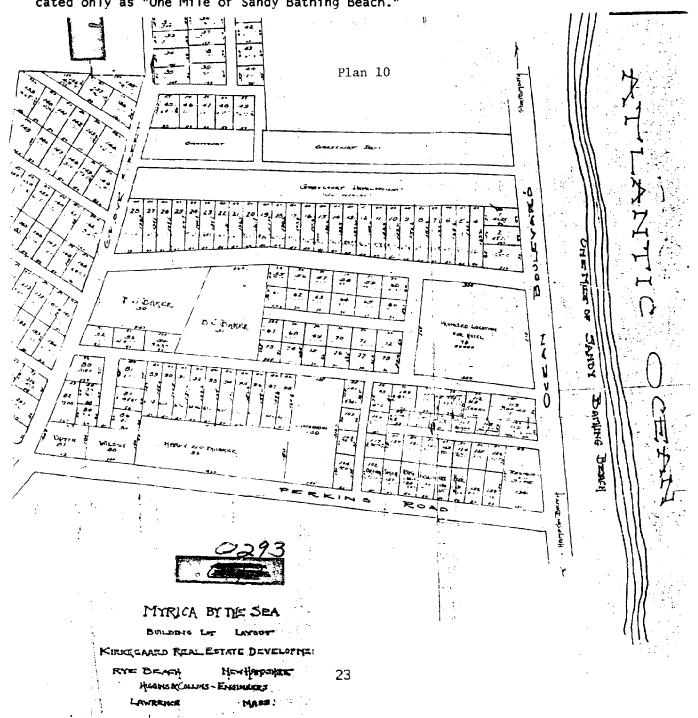

A "Plan of Philbrick Land...Developed by L.C.K. and T.M.M. Kirkegaard" was drawn in August of 1922 (see Plan 8 and Attachment 24). This plan indicates the E Street and F Street area close to its present configuration.

The Philbrick plan was soon followed by an undated. "Plan of Mvrica-By-The-Sea," for the Brown Real Estate and Timber Company of Bedford, Mass. (See Plan 9 and Attachment 25.) Deed references to this plan appear as early as August 1924. A comparison of lot sales to the plan dates the plan to January 1923 at the earliest. Note the proposed landscaped hotel where the yellow stucco apartment building now stands. Also note that "A" Street is clearly intended as a continuation of Baker Avenue.

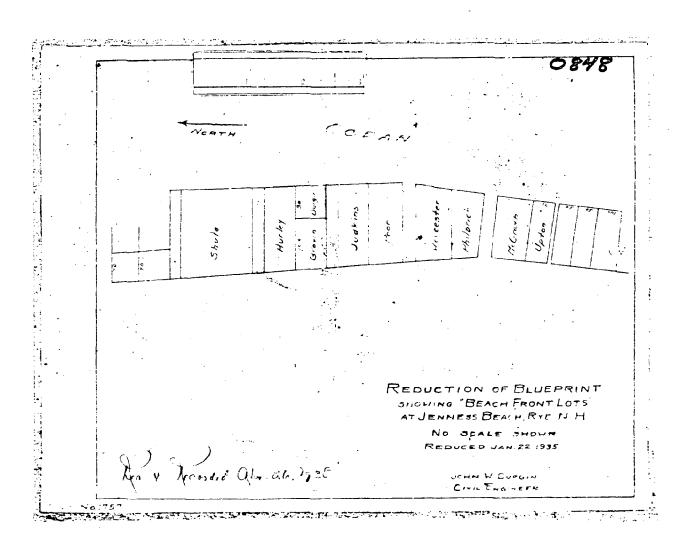

Sometime between 1924 and 1927, the developers began referring to themselves as "Kirkegaard Real Estate Development." The 355-lot Myrica-By-The-Sea plan drawn by Higgin & Collins (portion shown below) was recorded at the Registry in 1926 (see Plan 10 and Attachment 26). For the properties west of Ocean Boulevard, this plan is the basis for nearly all the subsequent deeds as well as the present street configuration. Note that land east of the Boulevard is indicated only as "One Mile of Sandy Bathing Beach."

The only remaining plan of the Alphabet Streets that was recorded at the Registry is entitled, "Beach Front Lots," by John W. Durgin (see Plan 11). The plan indicates that it was "Reduced Jan. 22, 1935," but does not reveal the date of its drawing. Though not labelled as such, A through E Streets are clearly indicated. The lot owners correspond with those of the mid-1920's.

Plan 11

Two additional streets to the beach, "G Street" and "H Street," were reportedly platted between F Street and Cable Road; however, these alleged streets were not located on any plans at the Registry or Town Hall.

Access to the beach via the alphabet streets have long been a bone of contention among area residents, particularly during the last two decades. As shown on the accompanying photographs, abutting property owners have converted much of A, B, C, and D Streets into lawns. Privately constructed seawalls have effectively blocked public access to the beach. In 1964, A Street abutters went so far as to hire an off-duty policeman to prohibit beachgoers from using the street. Angry confrontations ensued.

In 1969, Kirkegaard's heir, Louise K. Brown, offered to deed the alphabet streets to the Town in order to insure public access. Her written offer read as follows:

May 24, 1969

Dear Mrs. Valkmann,

There are, indeed, rights of way to the beach. They appear on the recorded plan of Rye Beach. As you perhaps know, my mother and father, Mr. & Mrs. John Kirkegaard, and my husband, John F. Brown, owned all the land on both sides of the Boulevard, from Cable Road to Perkins Road, running north to "the sheep pasture" beyond Great Rock Road. Also, from a point opposite entrance to Perkins Road. The first property sold was on the Beach, therefore they reserved access roads to the Beach for the use of those who would have cottages on the north side of the Boulevard.

I will be glad to help you in any way I can. If the Town of Rye will make up deeds of these roads from me to the Town, I will be delighted to give the land to them. It will be pleasant to have the matter settled once and for all. The Town's counsel can find the roads on the map they have on file.

Yours very truly,

Louise K. Brown

In response to Mrs. Brown's offer, a Warrant Article was presented to the 1970 Town Meeting accepting Brown's dedication and appropriating $200 to prepare the deeds. The article was tabled 134-113 on motion of Attorney Douglas Gray.

Alphabet Streets from Beach

Early in 1971, thirty-one residents of Myrica-by-the-Sea west of the Boulevard brought suit against John Prendiville, a C Street abutter, for blocking public access. The Superior Court ruled in favor of Prendiville. The court found no evidence of an expressed grant or implied easements. Inexplicably, the Master ruled the 1926 "One Mile of Sandy Bathing Beach" as the only relevant plan by reason of its basis for deed references. He also ruled that plaintiffs did not produce sufficient evidence to demonstrate prescriptive easements by the public, or adverse possession by neighbors. The decision was upheld the following year by the New Hampshire Supreme Court. (See Attachments 27 and 28.)

Extensive research by the plaintiffs' attorney in the Young/Prendiville case revealed only one lot on the westerly side of the Boulevard whose deed grants the owner a right of way on the easterly side.10

In the wake of the adverse ruling by Superior Court, an article was presented at the 1971 Town Meeting instructing the Selectmen "to proceed by eminent domain to acquire title to A, B, C, D, E, and F Streets." The article was laid to rest without a vote when Acting Town Counsel Lindsey Brigham ruled that "the law laid out the proper procedures (for eminent domain) and that this was not it."11

¹⁰Lot #119 on the 1926 plan; Parcel 47, Sheet 18 on the Tax Map. 11Town Clerk's records of the 1971 Town Meeting.

The following year, an article to raise funds for the acquisition of the alphabet streets failed by a 109-76 vote. Finally in 1973, six different Warrant Articles submitted by Maynard Young, each one proposing the acquisition of an individual alphabet street, passed Town Meeting. This action eventually resulted in the Town's acquisition of one of the alphabet streets, E Street, in the summer of 1973.

In 1974, twenty-eight residents petitioned the Selectmen to lay out a 20-foot wide Class VI Town Road on C Street (note Attachments 41, 42, 43 and 44). Following a Public Hearing in August of that year, the petitioners were denied by the Selectmen on a 2 to 1 vote for the following stated reasons:

"The Selectmen find no occasion for the layout of a highway in accordance with the petition. After due consideration of the public exigency and convenience, the rights of the affected owners and the necessary expense to the entire town, the Selectmen find that any public good which might arise from the layout of the highway would be limited to a small area of town and the general convenience to the entire town would be minimal at best. It further appears that the cost to the town as a whole which would be incurred by reason of the layout of a highway in the area stated in the petition, would far outweight any benefit which may accrue to the town as a whole should the highway be laid out.

There has not been demonstrated a genuine overall public need for such a highway as petitioned."

Present Status: E Street was deeded to the Town in 1973. The fate of F Street has not been determined, but public access does not appear restricted as evidenced by photographs and interviews with area residents. There is no trace of G or H Streets. An underground fuel tank reportedly lies beneath D Street. As mentioned above, access along A, B, C, and D Streets remains blocked, though no taxes have been assessed on these 30' wide lawns.

Findings:

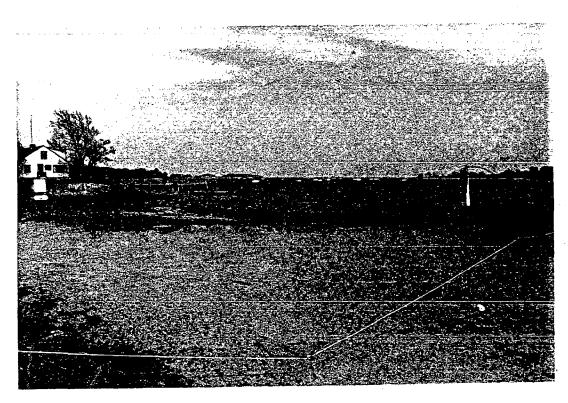

- 1) No expressed grants relative to the alphabet streets have been located.
- 2) Regarding dedications of land for streets, the court's exclusion of plans other than the 1926 plan is questioned. A careful reading of RSA 231:51 (dedications) certainly suggests that some of the beach front plans cited above have more bearing on the matter than the court acknowledged. Perhaps the court was not appraised of the development's full history.
- Based on court records and our extensive interviews with area residents, we believe a good case could be made on A, B, & D Streets for prescriptive public easements and adverse possession by area residents. In that C Street has already been litigated, it appears unlikely that the court would hear a similar case absent dramatic new evidence.

SITE C Little Harbor by Wentworth Road and Golf Course

Looking southeasterly across disputed access site.

History: The access site in question lies at the junction of the Wentworth Golf Course and Waldron's lot, which is designated as Parcel #8 on Tax Sheet #1. The site's lack of vegetative cover sets it clearly apart from the golf course (note photo above).

The present Wentworth Road, along with a bridge to New Castle, was built in 1874. Prior to that time, travelers to New Castle followed the ancient Ferry Road which traversed the present-day golf course, originating at Pioneer Road, and leading to a ferry landing near the present bridge.

The land in question was conveyed in October 1873 from Jedediah Rand to Charles Odiorne (Vol. 442, Page 404). This 4 1/2 acre tract was bounded on the north by the "New Castle Bridge Company" (Wentworth Road), on the east by Little Harbor, and on the west by the old Ferry Road (see Attachment 29). The deed made no mention of easements or other rights.

Seven years later, Charles Odiorne conveyed this tract (now referred to as 5 1/2 acres) to Samuel Odiorne, "together with the beach and water privileges thereunto belonging." (Vol. 476, Page 412. See Attachment 30). We can only speculate as to where these "privileges" originated.

In 1889, Samuel Odiorne subdivided this tract, and conveyed the present Waldron and Smith lots (Parcels #8 and #7 on Tax Sheet #1) to Lucy Richardson of Boston (Vol. 517, Page 275. See Attachment 31). After describing the perimeter of the conveyed parcel, the deed reads as follows:

"...intending to convey all the land and water rights and privileges not belonging to the public which lies on the southerly side of the following described line, to wit: Beginning at the southerly sideline of said (Wentworth) road at Little Harbor River where it runs under said bridge and following said southerly sideline of said road westerly to the stone steps opposite (across the road from) land of Charles B. Odiorne, which lead from said road down over the bank towards the beach, the distance measuring from the westerly end of said bridge to said steps being about 500'..."

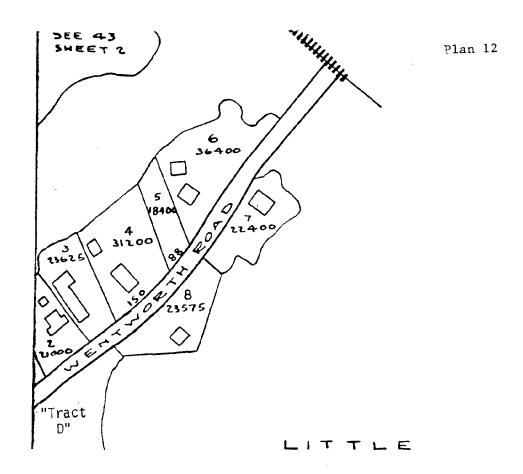

The stone steps are long gone, but they would mark the boundary between the Waldron lot (Parcel #8) and the golf course. Who built the stone steps and for whom they were intended remains unknown. As to the referenced "water rights and privileges," again we can only speculate.

Samuel Odiorne deeded the remainder of this parcel (presently the northeast corner of the golf course) to the Wentworth Hotel Company in 1921. (Vol. 743, Page 390). Though unmistakably the land in question, the golf course segment had now grown to 7 1/2 acres. The 7 1/2 acres probably resulted from a consolidation with other Odiorne land. Four years later, Richardson conveyed her parcel also (the easterly portion of Odiorne's original tract) to the Wentworth Hotel Company (Vol. 795, Page 415. Attachment 32). This deed references the same stone steps and public rights mentioned in her 1889 deed cited above.

The hotel went bankrupt in 1932. The premises were then acquired by Harry Beckwith of Brookline, Mass., (Vol. 886, Page 411) together "with the benefit of all existing rights, easements, and restrictions reserved in or imposed by any deed of record, whether the same be specifically referred to in this deed or not."

Six years later, Beckwith conveyed the property to Wentworth Hotel, Inc. (Vol. 1042, Page 397).

Wentworth Hotel Inc. subdivided off the present Waldron lot (see Plan 12 above, Parcel #8, Tax Sheet #1) and sold it to Helen Waldron in 1946 (Vol. 1058, Page 458). The old 7 1/2 acre Odiorne parcel which comprises the northwest corner of the golf course and abuts Waldron, re-emerged in 1964 as "Tract D" in a conveyance from Wentworth Hotel, Inc., to Wentworth Fairways Golf, Inc. (Vol. 1745, Page 419). This deed continued to reference the old steps to the beach (the access study site) as well as the old Ferry Road. Likewise, the same description of Tract D was used when the property was conveyed to Wentworth by-the-Sea Corporation in 1983 (Vol. 2451, Page 1727, Attachment 33). A "No Tresspassing" sign was erected at this site in 1983.

Findings:

- 1) Research has uncovered no express grant of public rights of passage; however, someone's "land and water rights and privileges" are clearly referenced in early deeds.
- 2) No plan or map to indicate any implied easements or other public rights was located.
- 3) Interviews suggest that the public has acquired a prescriptive use at this site by virtue of uninterrupted use for hundreds of years, primarily in search of shellfish and worms along the sides of Little Harbor.

SITE D

Looking east from Old Beach Road .

History: In 1901, A. E. Turner of Boston conveyed an uninnabited 27 acres of "woodland and pasture" to Fred Towle, Harry Yeaton and Charles Trafton, all of Portsmouth (Vol. 584, Page 126). This tract was bounded on the south by Cable Road, on the east by Jenness Beach, and extended as far north as the old Life Saving Station (56 Old Beach Road; Parcel 218 on Tax Sheet 18); and westerly to the terminus of Jenness Avenue. Four months later, Arthur Heffenger of Portsmouth acquired a one-fourth share in the property (Vol. 584, Page 406). These four individuals subsequently subdivided the tract into 171 lots and platted Atlantic Avenue, Jenness Avenue and Ocean Avenue (Breakers Road) among others, in a 1903 plan entitled, "Property of NH Beach Improvement Company." (See Plan 14 and Attachment 35.)

The access site in question is indicated on this plan as a "Right of Way" at the foot of the present Jenness Avenue (see Plan 14). The plan's lot numbers 6, 7, 24, and 25 correspond with the Tax Map's Parcel #214, while the plan's lot numbers 8 and 23, and a portion of numbers 9 and 22 correspond with Tax Parcel #213 (see Plan 13). Note the other north/south Right-of-Way indicated on the 1903 plan.

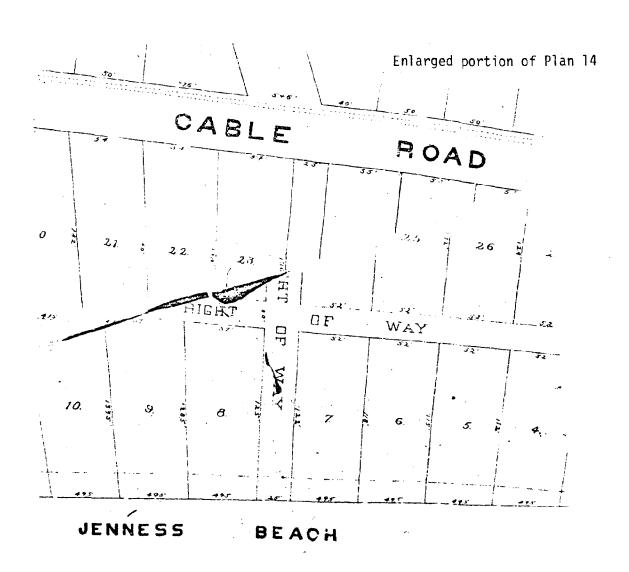

The New Hampshire Beach Improvement Company does not appear as a grantor in any recorded deeds, rather the lots were sold under the auspices of the North Shore Realty Company (Arthur Heffenger, President) or under the names of the four above-named proprietors.

In 1906, Lots 6, 7, 24 and 25 were sold as a single tract, along with the north/south right-of-way ("now discontinued") to Elizabeth Daland of Salem, Mass. (Vol. 616, Page 229; and Vol. 618, Page 426). These deeds twice refer to the east/west right-of-way as "Jenness Avenue."

Daland conveyed these premises to Ernest Griffin in 1919 (Vol. 735, Page 60). Griffin's heir, Ellen Griffin Root, conveyed the same to Norman Anderson in 1944 (Vol. 1016, Page 378) who in turn sold it to William Holihan in 1947 (Vol. 1081, Page 90). Note a 1964 Holihan deed in Attachment 36. Holihan's wife Ruth is the present owner.

The history of the land on the southerly side of the access site (Tax Parcel #213; Lots #8 and 23, and portions of #9 and 22 on Plan 14 below) is a bit more complicated.

Helen Trafton acquired this property from North Shore Realty Co., in 1912 (Vol. 667, Pagge 57), along with the north/south right-of-way which bisected it on the 1903 plan. Trafton, in turn, conveyed the same to Mary Jordan six years later (Vol. 726, Page 146, Attachment 37). In 1923, exactly 20 years after this "Jenness Avenue Extension" was platted, both abutters apparently made claims to the right-of-way. Jordan apparently claimed title to the half of the right-of-way which abutted her house lot, while announcing acquisition of rights to the other half by Quitclaim Deed from the northerly abutter, Ellen Griffin (Vol. 748, Page 313).

In 1938, Jordan conveyed the house lot and her supposed title to the east/west right-of-way in separate deeds to Marjorie Stannard (Vol. 937, Page 356 and Vol. 945, Page 224). Stannard conveyed both in the same deed in 1952 to James and Geraldine Holihan (Vol. 1258, Page 107. See Attachment 38.) The present owner, Geraldine Holihan, acquired the same in 1977 (Vol. 2281, Page 968; Attachment 39).

Findings:

- 1) No expressed grants in favor of the public were found; on the contrary, abuttors claim title to this "right of way" and have accordingly incorporated it into their deeds.
- 2) The right of way was clearly platted in 1903. Whether RSA 321:51 relative to dedications applies to pre-1913 plans is unclear.
- 3) Interviews with area residents suggest that a strong case may be made for a public easement by prescription and adverse possession by nearby residents.

"Old Town Way" at Jenness Beach

REMEDIAL ACTIONS AVAILABLE TO RYE TOWN OFFICIALS

Rive town officials may enhance public rights to beach access through any of the four alternatives outlined below:

1. Litigation

As pointed out by Attorney Charles F. Tucker (Attachment 28A), the C Street case could have gone either way. Absent any dramatic new evidence, re-opening litigation on C Street would stand little chance of success. The court would likely dismiss such an attempt at the outset on the grounds of "Res judicata," a matter already adjudicated. Regarding all the other sites, however, litigation remains a viable, though expensive, alternative. Attorney Tucker estimated legal fees in the range of $3,000 - $5,000 per site.

Were permanent injunctions ensuring public access to be pursued by the Town. the interviews and lists of area residents cited in this report could serve as an initial step toward demonstrating a prescriptive easement and/or adverse possession. thereby reducing the Town's overall legal bill. Note that in the 1971 C Street case, the court found the plaintiffs' presentation deficient in respect to documented public use. This report has cited 15 resident interviews in the Alphabet Street area alone indicating long-term use.

Five years after the C Street case, the New Hampshire Supreme Court made a decision which appears to greatly strengthen possible future litigation in support of public access rights to Rye's beaches. In Leo Foundation v. State of New Hampshire (117 NH 209), the court ruled that use by the public of a road "looking for a place to swim," though "intermittent and of a slight volume," would be sufficient to sustain a finding of establishment by prescription. In yet another recent case, Marrone v. Hampton 123 NH 729 (1983), the NH Supreme Court ruled against an abutter who had encroached upon a public way to the beach in Hampton (see Attachment 46 for Hampton Selectmen's response to Marrone's encroachment). In short, since the C Street decision, it appears that the New Hampshire legal climate has shifted in favor of greater public access to public waters.

2. Street Lavout

Pursuant to RSA 231, the Selectmen are empowered to lay out streets so long as it serves a "public purpose." Certainly access to the public beach would qualify as a legitimate public purpose.

The value of land taken for such a layout would be assessed by the Selectmen (RSA 231:15), and the owners compensated. The fact that taxes have never been paid on these roughly 30-foot strips might be taken into account as well as the "detrimental" effect in terms of real estate value, of documented public use. Obviously, Town Meeting action would be required to raise funds for this compensation. RSA 231 goes into greater detail on all procedures associated with street layout. Note Attachments 41 through 44 as sample formats for layout petitions, public notices, Selectmen findings and decisions.

The cost to the Town for this procedure is, of course, entirely dependent on the number of sites the Selectmen choose to address, and the assessed value of the land in question.

3. Eminent Domain

The Town might also pursue acquisition of fee simple ownership of these access sites through exercise of its power of eminent domain.12 Once again, the necessary public purpose is easily demonstrated, but the required compensation for land taken would have to be raised at Town Meeting.

4. Acquisition of Public Rights by Negotiation

Of the four alternatives presented here, this one would probably be the most acceptable to all parties, and cause the least amount of expense to the Town. Given the Town's options outlined above, the Selectmen would command a great deal of leverage in any negotiating process. Obviously, the findings of this report and documented public use contained therein further strengthens the Town's negotiating position.

¹²See 26 AM Jur 2d, Eminent Domain, paragraph 60

The Selectmen could pursue fee simple ownership, or lesser property rights such as a transit easement for pedestrians. Such an easement could be in perpetuity or designed to expire after a specified number of years. Town Counsel could be asked to draft an easement that incorporates whatever restrictions seem appropriate.

Negotiated acquisition of easements would settle the public access question once and for all. An additional advantage to the Town would be receipt of tax revenue for those heretofore untaxed waterfront parcels. Indeed. additional tax revenue would soon pay for the relatively minor expenses associated with negotiation.

As the simplest and least costly option. it is our recommendation that Alternative 4 be pursued.

Regardless of which course the Town follows, the public will not likely exercise their rights unless they are aware of them. Therefore, we further recommend that the access sites be clearly posted. "Access To Public Beach." or the equivalent.

And finally, please note the no-nonsense response of Hampton Selectmen (Attachment 46) to similar encroachment on public access to the beach.

OFFICE OF SELECTME

Selectmen's letter regarding site prioritization

RYE, NEW HAMPSHIRE

January 20, 1984

Mr. Tom Morgan Rockingham Planning Commission One Water Street Exeter, New Hampshire 03833

Dear Tom:

Based on the list your provided to our office relative to public access we wish researched under the approved grant, below please find the list in order of our priority.

- a. A public right-of-way, ten buildings south of Pirate's Cove
- b. Alphabet streets (6) at Jenness Beach, especially "C" street
- c. Little Harbor at Wentworth Road by Golf Course
- d. Off Old Beach Road (Tax Map 18, Lots 213 and 214)
- e. Off Old Beach Road (Tax Map 15 next to Lot 202)

Regarding Item c - Mr. Michael Cavaretta and our Town Clerk, Jane Ireland, may be able to provide you with historical information.

If you have any further questions, please let us know.

Very truly yours,

FOR THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Laying Out Highways

- 231:1 Ciass IV, V and VI. All class IV highways not financed in whole or in part with federal aid highway funds, and class V and VI highways shall be laid out by the mayor and aldermen of the city, the selectmen of the town or the commissioners of a village district formed for the purpose of RSA 52:1, I(m) in which such highways are located, or by the superior court as hereinafter provided. In the case of a village district formed for the purpose of RSA 52:1, I(m), references in this title to "town" and "selectmen" shall be deemed to be references to "village district" and "village district commissioners", respectively.
- 231:3 Class V Town Roads. All class V highways shall be constructed, reconstructed and maintained by the city or town in which they are located; provided, however, that town road aid may be used for such purposes, and town bridge aid may be used for the construction or reconstruction of any bridge thereon, as hereinafter provided.
- 231:6 Highways to Public Waters. Highways to public waters, when not a part of the primary or secondary highway system, may be laid out as class V highways by the mayor and aldermen of the city or the selectmen of the town in which such highways are located, or may be laid out as hereinafter provided by a commission appointed by the governor and council.
- 231:8 Petition. Selectmen of a town, upon petition, may lay out any new class IV highway not financed in whole or in part with federal aid highway funds, and class V or VI highway or alter any such existing highway within their town for which there shall be occasion.
- 231:9 Notice. Unless the selectmen are clearly of opinion that such petition ought not to be granted they shall cause notice in writing of the time and place of hearing appointed by them to be given at least 14 days previous to hearing to the first petitioner and to each owner of land over which such highway may pass.
- 231:11 Hearing. At the time and place so appointed the selectmen shall make a personal examination of the several routes proposed, and of the highways for which such new highway is designed to be a substitute, shall hear all parties interested who may attend and any evidence they may offer, and may adjourn as they see cause.
- 231:15 Assessment of Damages. The selectmen shall assess the damages sustained by each owner of land or other property taken for such highway.
- 231:17 Payment or Tender of Damages. No land or other property taken for a highway or alteration shall be appropriated or used for making the same until the damages assessed therefor are paid or tendered to the owner or his guardian or conservator.

231:21 Gates and Bars. Any highway may be laid out subject to gates and bars across the same. In such case it shall be determined, and the return of the selectmen shall state, by whom the gates and bars shall be maintained. Whenever the public good requires it they may be removed and further damages assessed, upon like proceedings as in the laying out of highways.

231:34 Appeal. Any person aggrieved by the decision of selectmen in the laying out or altering of a highway, or in the assessment of damages therefor, may appeal therefrom to the superior court for the county in which such land or other property is situate by petition within 60 days after the filing of the return with the town clerk for recording and not thereafter.

231:43 Power to Discontinue. Any class IV, V or VI highway, or any portion thereof, in a town may be discontinued by vote of a town; provided, however, that any highway to public waters, or portion of such highway, laid out by a commission appointed by the governor and council, shall not be discontinued except with the consent of the governor and council and provided further that no owner of land shall, without his written consent, be deprived of access over such highway, at his own risk.

231:51 Dedicated Ways. Any street, lane or alley within this state which has been dedicated to public use by being drawn or shown upon a plan of lands platted by the owner, and the sale of lots in accordance with such plan, shall be released and discharged from all public servitude unless such street, lane or alley shall be opened, built or used for public travel within 20 years from such dedication.

Annotations Under Former RSA 238:7

Constitutional law, 1 Evidence of use, 2

1. Constitutional law

The provision was not unconstitutional as an unreasonable exercise of legislative power. Hodge v. Manchester (1920) 79 NH 437, 111 A 385.

2. Evidence of use

Where evidence of public use was indefinite and at the most suggested an occasional use, it was insufficient to show public acceptance of the street. Young v. Prendiville (1972) 112 NH 190, 291 A2d 602.

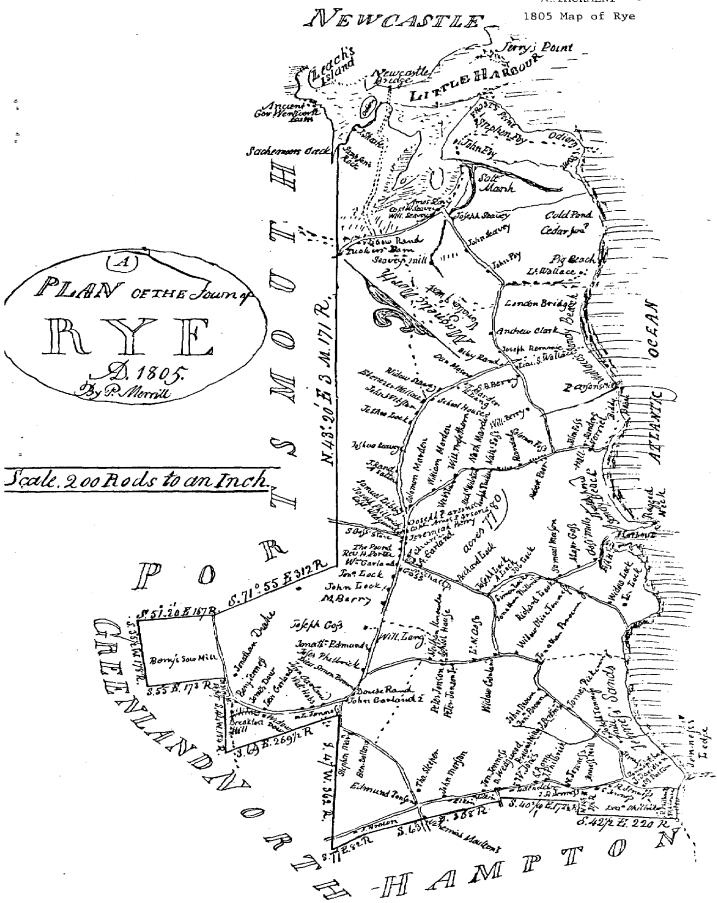

3. Private development

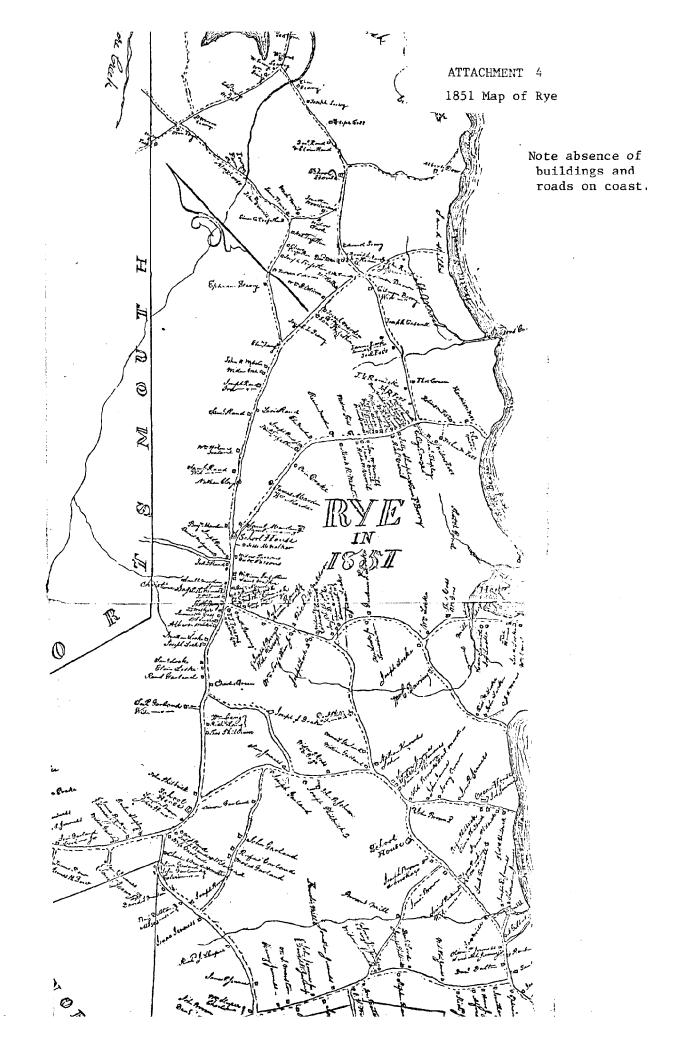

Where defendant in quiet title action had purchased lots in several blocks of a subdivision, including all the land designated as proposed streets, trial court correctly ruled that defendant had right to develop access road from end-to-end for his and others' use for purpose of going to and from his property, since such result did not circumvent intent of the provision in establishing time limits for city's acceptance of offers of street dedication, but rather, recited the type of use which was reasonable for defendant's easement. Duchesnaye v. Silva (1978) 118 NH 728, 394 A2d 59.

231:52 Release by Town. The mayor and aldermen of a city or the selectmen of a town may release and discharge any way dedicated as aforesaid from all public servitude at any time after such dedication, upon petition by any interested party and notice and hearing thereon, whenever in their opinion such way will not be needed for the accommodation of public travel. All proceedings shall be conducted in the manner provided for the laying out of highways, and any interested party may appeal to the superior court from the decision, as in the case of petitions for laying out highways.

Master's Report

This is a petition originally brought by some thirty-eight plaintiffs seeking an injunction to restrain the defendants from barring the plaintiffs access to Rye Beach through an area which in this report will be referred to as "C" Street. "C" Street extends eastward from Ocean Boulevard to the beach.

On motion of the plaintiffs the petition was dismissed as to six of the original plaintiffs, to wit: James C. Gahan, Jr., Jane R. Gahan, John H. Fallon, Edith H. Fallon, Richard M. Oeser, and Lucy-Anne Oeser.

The plaintiffs are residents of a development known as Myrica by the Sea, and it is situate westerly of Ocean Boulevard. The defendants own summer homes situate on the easterly side of the Boulevard and bordering on Rye Beach -- the Prendivilles' lying southerly of "C" Street and the Wynots' property lying northerly.

The plaintiffs are only entitled to relief if there has been some interference with some right or interest they have in "C" Street. The burden of proving the existence of such right or interest rests upon the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs, either in their original pleadings or in amendments thereto, based their claim on four grounds:

- 1. By expressed grant.
- 2. By implied easements by reason of the layout of "C" Street on a plan or map.
- 3. By "C" Street having become a public way by prescriptive use of the general public.
- 4. By plaintiffs having acquired a private way over "C" Street by adverse use.

There was no evidence that the plaintiffs had ever acquired any rights in "C" Street by expressed grant. None of their deeds mention "C" Street and none specifically give to the grantees any right of access to the beach. There was no evidence introduced of any other written documents expressly granting such rights to the plaintiffs.

The Master finds and rules that the plaintiffs acquired no rights or interest in "C" Street by virtue of any expressed grant.

The deeds of the plaintiffs all contain the following provisions: "...being Lot No. (number of lot inserted) on plan entitled, 'Myrica by the Sea, Building Lot Layout, Kirkegaar Real Estate Development, Rye Beach, New Hampshire', by Higgins and Collins, Engineers, Lawrence, Massachusetts". There is no other map or plot plan referred to in the conveyances. The plan was introduced as Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1. The plan consists of the layout of some 350, plus, lots and various roads or streets. While the plan itself bears no date, it was filed and recorded in the Registry of Deeds on November 12, 1926. The entire layout is situate on the westerly side of Ocean Boulevard. The only reference to the area on the easterly side of the Boulevard is the notation, "one mile of sandy bathing beach". The plan indicates no access to the beach and no layout or streets running easterly from Ocean Boulevard to the beach.

There were certain other maps or plans that indicate an area marked "C" Street that runs from the Boulevard easterly to the beach. However, none of these are mentioned in the deeds of the plaintiffs, and they are not entitled to derive any benefits by reason thereof.

The Master finds and rules that the plaintiffs acquired no interest or right in "C" Street by implied easements.

The Master is unable to find that the general public acquired any interest or right in "C" Street by virtue of prescriptive use by the general public. There was some evidence of use of "C" Street by persons other than the plaintiffs and residents of the Myrica development, but the evidence was vague and of only an occasional use that was not sufficient to establish any public right of way. No persons other than the plaintiffs, residents of the Myrica development, as far as these proceedings are concerned made any claim to such a right.

Whatever use the residents of the Myrica development made of "C" Street, it was a use at best restricted to a specific group and was not sufficient to establish a public right of use.

The Master finds and rules that the plaintiffs acquired no interest or right to "C" Street as members of the general public.

In order to determine whether or not the plaintiffs acquired any private right or interests in "C" Street by prescriptive use, it is necessary for the plaintiffs to show that such use as made by them was adverse and hostile. Before this can be determined, it is necessary to decide who did have such a title or interest in "C" Street against whom the use of "C" Street would be adverse or hostile.

The titles of the defendants were derived from Brown Real Estate and Timber Company. The deeds of the defendants and their predecessors in title described the property as abutting on "C" Street. Neither "C" Street itself nor any rights therein were ever specifically granted.

The defendants' deeds and most of those of their predecessors in title describe "C" Street as a "proposed" street called "C" Street on 'Plan of Lots' of beach land of Brown Real Estate and Timber Company, recorded in Rockingham County Registry of Deeds. The Master finds that plan, introduced as Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2, is the plan this referred It specifically indicates an area marked "C" Street running easterly from the Boulevard to the beach. There was no evidence indicating any disagreement between the parties to this action as to the location of "C" Street on the ground. From the evidence the first conveyance that attempted to include "C" Street within the conveyed premises was the deed of Stanley Burns, defendant Prendiville's predecessor in title, to Irene Burns, dated January 2, 1964. This deed located the lot on the southerly side of "a proposed street called "C" Street", but also bounded the conveyed lot on the northerly side by land of Edith Hill, who owned the lot on the northerly side of "C" Street. The next specific attempt to convey any rights in "C" Street was deed dated July 20, 1967, from Evelyn Flanders to defendants Edward D. and Eugenia Wynot. This deed included, "...together with all right, title, and interests to the grantor in and to "C" Street and the right to use the same in common with others".

Defendants John F. and Ella M. Prendiville secured title to their lot on the southerly side of "C" Street by two deeds from Irene Burns, both dated July 24, 1968. The first deed followed the same description as the above-mentioned deed from Stanley Burns to Trene Burns. The second, a quitclaim deed purported to convey, "All my right, interest, and title to a certain hard-topped driveway northerly and adjacent to property deeded by me this day to John F. Prendiville and Ella M. Prendiville," and referred to in said deed as, "...a proposed street called "C" Street, together with all of my right and title, including any rights of way, or title by prescriptive use, to land running from the easterly edge of said driveway to the mean low water mark of the Atlantic Ocean."

Other than the above-mentioned deeds, there was no evidence that the Brown Real Estate and Timber Company, or any of its successors in title, or any of the defendants or their predecessors in title had ever specifically granted to anyone any interest in "C" Street.

The Master finds and rules that as between the parties to these proceedings the lots presently owned by the defendants, having been sold to the defendants and their predecessors in title with reference to a recorded plan showing "C" Street as a proposed street and describing "C" Street as a boundary, the conveyances to the defendants and their predecessors in title deeded each of them the underlying fee to that one-half of "C" Street which abutted their respective properties.

A stone wall was constructed on the easterly side of the defendants' properties for the purpose of preventing erosion and water damage. This wall extended along the easterly terminus of "C" Street. There were three stairways erected in this wall leading down to the beach, one in front of defendant Wynot's property, one at the end of "C" Street, and one in front of defendant Prendiville's property. Certain people who lived in the vicinity had used "C" Street and the center stairway to reach the beach beginning as far back as 1932. The street was never blocked off. About 1957 a sign was erected on the westerly terminus of "C" Street reading, "Private Way, Residents Only". Plaintiff's Exhibit No. 2, in addition to "C" Street, indicates "A", "B", "D", and "E" Streets. There is no line on the plan closing the easterly terminus of any of these streets.

Up until recent years the evidence indicates that the use of "C" Street by persons other than abutting owners was not hostile. A number of those who used the way beyond the prescriptive period were friends of the abutting owners, and there was a friendly relationship that would have disallowed hostility.

Many of them used the way with the expressed permission of the abutting owners. Many of the plaintiffs neither testified nor were present at the hearing. There was no evidence as to what use some of these had made of the way. The testimony of others indicated that their use was only in recent years. The lack of definiteness as to time of use, by whom, whether with or without permission, implied or otherwise, are bars to the Master making a finding that the plaintiffs have sustained their burden in proving that their use of the way was adverse and hostile for a continuous period of twenty years or more.

The Master recommends the petition be dismissed and that no damages be assessed against the plaintiffs.

JOHN F. PRENDIVILLE & a.

May 31, 1972.

 Evidence of indefinite and occasional public use of a street within twenty years of us deducation to such use by the filing of a subdivision plan in the county registry of deeds and of subsequent sales of lots in accordance with the plan were properly found to be insufficient to constitute public acceptance of the street under RSA 238:7.

 Use of such a street by the abutting owners' tenants, friends, and neighbors within twenty years of its decification did not constitute a public use within the meaning of RSA 288-7.

Griffin, Harrington $\mathcal G$ Brigham (Mr. Lindsey R. Brigham orally) for the plaintiffs.

Upton, Sanders & Upton and Sullivan & Wynot (Mr. Frederic K. Upton orally) for the defendants.

Kenson, C.J. The principal issue presented in this case is whether a street to Rye Beach was accepted by the public as a public way or whether it has remained the private property of defendants, abutting land owners.

C Street is one of five streets running from Ocean Boulevard to Rye Beach as shown on a subdivision plan of the land between the boulevard and the beach. Around 1921, the owner filed the plan in the county registry of deeds and thereafter sold lots in accordance with the plan. C Street has never been formally accepted or developed by the municipality as a public way. Today C Street is in pair a paved common driveway for the abuiting owners and in part a grass lawn divided from the beach by a sea wall.

Plaintiffs, residents of a different development on the other side of Ocean Boulevard, sought an injunction restraining defendants from obstructing passage along C Street to the beach. Plaintifts alleged both a private right of passage based on prescription or implication from the plan and a public right of passage based on prescription or dedication. The Master (*Leonard C, Hardwick, *Esq.) round that none of the plaintiffs acquired rights in C Street by express grant or by deed reference to any plan showing access to the beach. He found neither a private nor a public right of passage and recommended the periton be dismissed. The Superior Court (Perkus, L) approved the master's decision.

The principal issue that the plaintiffs argue on appeal is whether the land has become public, under RSA 238.7, by dedication. The statute provides: "238.7, Dedicated Ways. Any street, lane or alley within this state which has been dedicated to public use by being drawn or shown upon a plan of lands platted by the owner, and the sale of lots in accordance with such plan, shall be released and discharged from all public servitude unless such street, lane or alley shall be opened, built or used for public travel within twenty years from such dedication," See Hodge v. Manchester, 79 N.H. 437, 111 A. 385 (1920).

Defendants initially contend that the plaintiffs' failfire to except to the master's report of to the superior court's approval of the report prevents them from tasking the issue of dedication on appeal. We agree that under A won's Cooper. 97 N.H. 327, 87 A.2d 687 (1952), review of this issue might properly be demed. However masmuch as the issue was traved by objuitiffs' requests for judges of law and interentially covered by the master's report, we prefer to consider the case on its merits.

C Street was dedicated to public use in 1921 with the filing of the plan and subsequent sale of the lots. RSA 238;7; Perrollo v. Claremont, 101 N.H. 267, 140 A.2d 576 (1958); 6 Powell, Real Property para, 935 (1971). The master found the evidence of public use, as contrasted with use by the abutting owners' tenants, friends, and neighbors, indefinite, at best suggesting an occasional use insufficient to create public rights. Although this finding was principally in response to plaintiffs' primary argument of right by prescription based on use after 1941, it well characterizes the pre-1941 use. We hold such meager evidence of use within 20 years of dedication insufficient for public acceptance of a street under RSA 238.7. Melinus v. Hampton, 112 N.H. 57, 288 A.2d 691 (1972); Town of Glenarden v. Lewis, 261 Md. 1, 273 A.2d 140 (1971); County of Banner v. Young, 184 Neb. 546, 169 N.W.2d 280 (1969); Hofgesang v. Woodbine Avenue Realty Co., 414 S.W.2d 580 (Ky. 1967): 11 McQuillin, Municipal Corporations vs. 33.50, 33.54 (3d ed. rev. 1964); see Note, Public Ownership of Land Through Dedication, 75 Harv. L. Rev. 1406 (1962).

Plaintiffs rely heavily upon Philips v. City of Stimporl, 81 Conn. 408, 71 A. 361 (1908), which affirmed a trial court's finding that a limited annual summer use by nearly residents of a path to the ocean was sufficient to show public acceptance of dedication of the path. We need not pass on whether Philips represents the law in New Hampshire because the case is clearly distinguishable. Moreover, the evidence in this case suggests less public use and is significantly less definite than in Philips.

The plaintiffs complain of the master's failure to expressly grant or deny certain requests and also to certain evidentary tubings. We have examined both the requests and the rulings and find no prejudicial error, See Traynor, The Riddle of Harmless Error 80-81 (1970).

Plaintiffs' exceptions overruled.

All concurred.

Re: Young vs. Prendiville

Dear George:

I have reviewed the Superior Court Decision, Reserve Case, and Supreme Court Decisions in Young vs. Prendiville with an eye toward whether the case might be brought again either by the Town of Rye, itself, or by citizens in the development.

Alhtough the case clearly could have gone either way, I think it is one of those examples where what my gut reaction "ought to be" and what the law actually says are two different things.

Apparently Mr. Young could not prove:

- 1. That the original plan established a right in the plaintiffs to use "C" Street since their lots derived from a different subdivision plan;
- 2. The public had acquired no rights to "C" Street since the Town did not take over and maintain it within twenty (20) years of its showing on the plan as required by state statute;
- 3. Mr. Young et al could not show that the public had by adverse use acquired a right to use "C" Street since it had appeared that the public had been effectively prohibited from using it by signs which said "residents only" and other such devises; and,
- 4. Mr. Young and his neighbors could not prove that they acquired a right to use it by adverse possession (a prescriptive easement) because they had been permitted to use the right-of-way by the defendants and their predecessors thus raising no "adversity" and thus creating no rights.

In order to determine whether it is worth bringing the matter up before the court again, it must be determined whether anything has changed.

- A. Certainly the original grant of rights has not changed.
- B. Certainly the original dedication procedure has not changed.
- C. Perhaps the public has now used the right-of-way, adversely, for twenty (20) years. If that can be proven that is a change sufficient enough to re-open the case. In that event the Town of Rye might be the appropriate plaintiff, or the State of New Hampshire might be the appropriate plaintiff.
- D. If, since the date of the decree, the original plaintiffs and their successors-in-title have used the property for access despite the court decision, warnings, threats, signs, and physical barriers, then perhaps both plaintiffs can now prove use by adverse possession.

My estimate for the cost of such a Suit on this street or any of the other letter streets is at least $3,000 and perhaps $5,000. As far as "C" Street goes, it would be particularly difficult to get by the first hearing wherein the Prendivilles or their successors, would attempt to have the case thrown out and obtain attorneys fees because the same case was being brought twice. Although award of attorneys fees is rare, I think it is quite possible that a judge who found the defendants were being sued twice over the same matter would be entitled to them.

If one of the other alphabet streets has a quite different history and public use can be proven, or use by neighbors can be proven, and such use can shown to be notorious, adverse, and for a period of twenty (20) or more years, then I believe those cases would have a good chance of success. Each one would turn on its own fact situation.

Sincerely yours,

Charles F. Tucker dictated/not read

TOWN OF RYE

In the Matter of a Petition to Lay Out a Highway Filed By Patrick J. Foley and Others with Selectmen of Rye, N. H.

FINDINGS AND DECISION

The above-entitled petition having been filed with the Selectmen of Rye, New Hampshire on or about June 10, 1974 and the abutting landowners and the public having been properly served with notice of a public hearing and a public hearing having been held on August 19, 1974 and all interested parties having been heard, after due deliberation and at a public meeting of the Selectmen and upon a motion to grant the petition, Mr. Morang voting in the affirmative and Mr. Goss and Mrs. Tibbetts voting in the negative, the petition for the layout of a new Class VI highway was denied for the following reasons:

The Selectmen find no occasion for the layout of a highway in accordance with the petition. After due consideration of the public exigency and convenience, the rights of the affected owners and the necessary expense to the entire town, the Selectmen find that any public good which might arise from the layout of the highway would be limited to a small area of the town and the general convenience to the entire town would be minimal at best. It further appears that the cost to the town as a whole which would be incurred by reason of the layout of a highway in the area stated in the petition, would far outweigh any benefit which may accrue to the town as a whole should the highway be laid out.

There has not been demonstrated a genuine overall public need for such a highway as petitioned.

Dated at Rye, New Hampshire this 16th day of October, 1974.

The Gritty Battle for Beach Access

From sea to shining sea, sunbathers vs. property owners

A year after Hurricane Alicia walloped the Texas coast around Galveston last summer, the storm has not entirely abated. Having weathered natural disaster, some 140 beachfront-property owners are facing an even worse legal catastrophe. Texas law gives the public the right to use all the beach in the corridor between the sea at low tide and the natural vegetation line. The violent winds and rain of Hurricane Alicia tore away such large chunks of land that private. $100.000 homes are no longer sitting on privately controlled property. When officials moved in to claim the land for sunbathers and fishermen and to require that some of the houses be abandoned without any state compensation, the homeowners' wrath easily matched that of Alicia. A maelstrom of lawsuits is still raging.

Such beach battles are by no means unusual. From sea to shinprivate beaches. Earlier this year, for instance, the New Jersey Supreme Court took note of "the increasing demand for our state's beaches" and held that they are a "public trust" to which private-property rights must give way. The theory is a ground-breaking, potentially sweeping one. Courts in Oregon. Florida and Hawaii have also upheld beach access under the more legally traditional "doctrine of custom:" When the beaches have always been

... and Massachusetts on the East Coast ...

PRIVATE BEACH MO TRESPASSING BEHILLRED * BADIER 11 18. 1 . 15 Tread not, warn signs from New Jersey . . . ing sea. landlocked citizens are asserting what in many states is their traditional right of access to the beaches, even if they have to tramp across private property to get there. At the same time, property owners, especially wealthy residents of exclusive beachfront communities, are becoming increasingly militant about the invasion of beachgoers. In Maine's highpriced coastal enclaves, property owners, many of them from out of state, have built fences, thrown rocks, towed cars and on at least one occasion brandished a shotgun to keep clammers, fishermen and would-be sunbathers off their land. On the Massachusetts island of Martha's Vineyard, a summer retreat for some of the East Coast's most prominent lawyers and businessmen, homeowners have begun hiring private guards to confine outsiders to relatively crowded stretches of public beach.

But nationally, the trend is otherwise: courts and new laws are gradually eroding open to the public, these courts have held. they must remain so. In Hawaii a tough law forced even the Mauna Kea Beach Hotel, one of the world's poshest resorts, to build an access path to the beach for the public. The hotel, however, has reduced the flow of ordinary tourists by charging high parking fees. Such indirect attempts to limit beachgoing crowds are common. Resort towns often impose parking restrictions and stiff bridge and beach tolls for nonresidents. But these too are being attacked. In Florida this month, Governor Bob Graham authorized local officials in St. Augustine to press a lawsuit challenging beach tolls.

The beach legal wars are largely an outgrowth of rapid coastline development. In Texas, for instance, there was little protest from landowners when the Open Beaches Act was passed in 1959, because at that time the Texas Gulf Coast was sparsely developed. Widespread construction of private homes, hotels and high-rise condominiums has come only in the past ten or 15 years. The new objections, in the wake of Hurricane Alicia, are nothing but "the arrogance of affluence." says Assistant Attorney General Ken Cross. "Building on a beachfront is a gamble with nature. When they take that gamble and put their money down, they should be prepared to risk losing it.

Some beachfront dwellers accept their losses from the ever-changing sea. but not from the ever-changing state. In California, the state coastal commission ruled in 1977 that when owners build or rebuild sea walls to protect their property from erosion, all land seaward of the embankments is automatically opened to public access. In 1979 a Ventura County community called Whalers' Village built a revetment and fought the public-access rule. A local court found the requirement unconstitutional in 1983 because it was "the taking of private property without paying just compensation." The ruling is being appealed. "The government is giving these people a Hobson's choice." says

Whalers: Village Attorney Charles Greenberg. "Allow your homes to e be destroyed or open up your backyard to the public." Santa Monica Attorney Sherman Stacey, who is bringing a similar suit, argues. "If the state wants to improve public access, why doesn't it buy the property and impose the cost on all the taxpayers?"

One reason: it is too expensive. On Nantucket Island, Mass., an innovative approach to that problem is a 2% tax on all real estate sales, the funds to be used to buy back the beaches for the public. But most states are not obliged to pay for what is viewed as a longstanding public right. That may be true even in Maine, which is still governed to some extent by a 17th century grant from the King of England that gave away huge tracts of coastal land, including the beaches, to encourage settlement. How the King's law now applies will be decided by the Maine courts in a case involving public access to a prime stretch of coastline called Moody Beach. Assistant Attornev General Paul Stern, for one, believes that the courts "will decide that the public has the right to use the state beaches rather than preserving them for essentially the privileged classes. Why shouldn't a mill worker from Lisbon Falls be able to use the beaches?" he asks. The legal tide seems to be going his way. - By Michael S. Serrill. Hampton Selectmen settle land dispute

By DWIGHT ADAMS Staff Writer

HAMPTON - Selectmen literally took the matter into their own hands yesterday as they supervised town employees uprooting 10foot-tall pine trees, shrubs, a blacktop sidewalk and a park bench placed at the end of an unpaved section of James Street by neighbor Michael Mar-

Tuesday morning's action ended a four-yearold dispute between selectmen and Marrone, after a state Supreme Court decision Aug. 31 "reversed and remanded" an earlier Superior Court action supporting Marrone. All removed trees and shrubs have been replanted at the public works compound on Tide Mill Road and the roadway replaced with beach sand.

"If he wants them, he can come get them," said Selectmen Chairman Ashton Norton of Marrone's greenery. The lesson here is you cannot encroach upon town rights-of-way with anything - trees, rocks, bushes or buildings.

The Supreme Court said the town has a right to 'abate' improvements made by Marrone on the unpaved James Street extension, as well as to remove a deck he built out into the road.

However, the town is required to compensate Marrone for the "fair value" of a concrete seawall and wooden steps he constructed at the beach's edge at selectmen's request.
